

May 6th, 2024

William Fraser

Smoosh

"Start by resting your hands for a few seconds, just below the swell of their belly"

Intoned the instructor in a deep, resonant voice, drawing every eye to the front

"Rub slowly, going clockwise using firm pressure, or two hands in figure eights"

"Show your partner just how much you appreciate this chance to share love"

You offer for me to go first, and we strip, wondering what will happen

I lie down, relaxed, my belly joyously awaiting your sensual touch

Your hands approach, touch down, and pause, sweet anticipation

I sink down further, breathing slowly, unhurried energy pulsing

You begin to move, caressing my body, contentment filling me

I melt further, your hands like a warm breeze, so enlivening

You wander around, now a daring foray, now a slow retreat

My turn is up, all to soon, and we trade places and roles

You lie down, making yourself comfortable, as I prepare

I begin, placing my hand on your sweet body, eager

Your body tenses, for just a moment, as it adjusts

I trace your beautiful, smooth belly in slow circles

You uncurl and blossom like a flower in spring

I press gently on your hips, and pull as I move on

You are sighing, riding a wave of pleasure

I continue, with all the love my fingers can give

You ask me to write the story of the belly

I slide hands over you, willing time to slow

Your belly is so open, trusting, vulnerable

I pour myself onto you, like warm honey

You are your belly, a story being written

I am my fingers, writing a belly story

You drink in all the delicious pleasure

I follow the smooth contour of skin

You deserve to experience this

I deserve to experience this, too

You are radiant in the dim room

I restart just below the swell

You are magical, precious

I polish you like fine china

You glow with inner fire

I hear the bell distantly

Your turn is not long

I bring this to a close

You sigh once more

My hands wander

You feel me slow

I still my hands

Your turn is up

My hands lift

You invite me

I lie down

We smoosh

And pause

Breathing

Wriggling

Roll over

Together

Smoosh